

Do you want to be an ECI (infant-toddler) or ECP (preschool) major? Why?	I personally wouldn't like to be an ECI or an ECP major because I have different plans for my future and I was trying early childhood education. If I had to choose I would want to be an ECP major because I would personally prefer children who are able to communicate with me more with their words then just actions.
What qualities do you have that will help you be successful working with your chosen age group?	I have personal experience with children at the preschool age. Not only did I work in a summer camp working with kids around that age but I also have 4 other siblings Ive helped raised. I also have a lot of patience for children, especially when trying to help them learn something new.
What skills would you like to develop that will help you be more effective working with that age group?	Learning different teaching techniques depending on how the child learns. Such as visual, hands on, and audio learning. Especially whatever is most appropriate for that age group.
What are your career goals	My career goals are up in the air at the moment but my biggest goal is to figure out what ever makes me happy and successful in life
What steps will you take to achieve those career goals?	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Continue going to school to find my best interest 2. Find my interest and pursue it in school 3. Go to a four year college 4. Finish school and get a job based on the major I'm in 5. Continue to get my masters

--	--

What steps will you take at BMCC to help you reach those goals?	. Take liberal arts as a major and minor in things I'm interested in <ol style="list-style-type: none">2. Continue taking baby steps with the help of my asap advisor3. And finish my degree
--	--