Summary of crimes listed above: The type of crimes that are most likely to be reported over the past week is gun violence, assaults, and stabbings. There aren't specific crimes being reported as I thought there'd be. Day 1 of me doing my research on the latest crimes reported I found an article on an incident that happened of a shooting that occurred downtown at a shoe store. On Day 2 of my research I found an article of 2 police officers being attacked on the same street just down the block from where the previous incident that I found happened for just telling a group of immigrants to stop blocking the street which caused them to attack the officers. Day 3 of my research I found an article of a shooting that took place in the Bronx where 2 young teens were involved and a young teen 16 yrs old firing at a young teen and missing and hitting an innocent male killing them. The last day of my research I found an article on a slashing incident that occurred in Brooklyn with 2 young teens, the 13 year old slashing the 14 year old. The crimes that are most likely to be reported is murder, shooting, and stabbing. These are the common types of crimes that get reported and shown on the news because it is happening a lot today in NYC and a bunch of young kids are ruining their lives participating in all of these crazy things that's going on today at such a young age...
