

Conducting & Writing Observation of an Infant

Now it is time to get to know the baby in more depth. To ensure everyone's health and safety, the observation will be conducted virtually. Pick 1 video to watch and use this footage as your observation of an infant. Pretend the baby in the video is the infant from your Infant/ Family Case Study family.

Your observation should be detailed, descriptive, non-judgmental (objective) and written in chronological order.

When watching the video look for the following:

- Where the observation takes place? Describe the space in detail. Who was present?
- What the baby look like – hair, skin, facial features, body type, and clothing? (if you have seen your Infant/ Family Case Study baby, you can describe them in detail)
- What the baby does, in general, during your observation?
- How the baby moves (please include all types of movements)?
- What the baby looks at, gaze at?
- What seems to attract the baby's interest? How can you tell?
- What toys, materials, and/or furniture the baby uses while you are observing? How?
- How the baby vocalizes, including cries, babbling, and using real words?
- What other ways the baby communicates, including facial expressions and gestures?
- How the baby interacts with people including you?
- What routines (eating, sleeping, toileting/ diapering, bathing, playing, transitions, etc.) you observe the family engage in? What happens during the routines? How does the baby react?
- Anything else you notice.

Try to notice and record scenarios. Capture the details of interactions between the baby and the environment, including the people in that environment.

Observation of an Infant Paper

~3 pages, type written, double spaced, standard 1" margins

Purpose: The purpose of the Observation of an Infant Paper is for you to:

- Enhance your skills as an observer
- Focus on nuances in a child's behavior and interactions
- Create field notes of an observation of a child
- Document what you observed in a detailed, non-judgmental and chronological format

Task: In this paper, you will summarize what you observed to share what you saw and learned about the infant. This will build on your foundation of knowledge and information for your Commentary Paper. Use the notes from your observation to write a paper that had the following three sections:

- Section 1: Introduction
- Section 2: Objective, Sequential Narrative Summary of the Observation
- Section 3: Conclusion

1. Introduction

- Provide the following details about the observation:
 - Describe the setting of the observation.
 - Where did the observation take place?
 - Describe the physical space.
 - What furniture, materials, equipment were in the space?
 - How was the furniture, materials and equipment positioned/ arranged?
 - Who was present?
 - Describe the child.
 - How old is the child?

- Describe the child's physical appearance -- hair, skin, facial features, body type, and clothing.
2. Objective, Sequential Narrative Summary of the Observation
- Share a chronological overview of the baby's actions during your observation.
 - Begin with what happened at the start of your observation.
 - Capture the baby's behavior, interactions and reactions in descriptive vignettes, or short stories. You should include 3 vignettes/ short stories of what the babies did, and how, from your observation. These vignettes/ short stories should be presented in sequential order. They should describe the baby's behavior in detail.
 - Use objective, non-judgmental language to describe the baby's actions, interactions, and reactions.
 - Describe the baby's behavior and reactions using rich vivid details so the reader can picture the baby's actions.
 - Close with what happened at the end of the observation
3. Conclusion
- Answer the following questions in the final paragraph:
 - What did you learn about the baby during your observation?
 - What struck you from the observation, either while you watching the video or when you were writing your paper?
 - How does this observation connect to what you have learned in class? Make specific connections
