

INTRODUCING THE BABY & FAMILY TO THE TEAM PRESENTATION

3-4 minute engaging presentation

Purpose: The purpose of the Introducing the Baby & Family to the Team Presentation is to:

- Refine your skills presenting information
- Identify information important for working with babies & families in a program
- Analyze the information you collected during your Infant/ Family Case Study

Task: As infant/ toddler professionals, we welcome new families to our programs regularly. You interviewed a family and observed a baby who will be joining your program. Prepare a 3-5 minute engaging presentation to introduce the baby and family to your colleagues.

Steps: Follow these steps to complete the assignment:

1. Make a list of the information infant professionals need to know to be most effective when working with a family and baby
2. Review your Initial Contact with the Family of an Infant, Interview with the Family of an Infant Paper, Observation of an Infant Paper, and Commentary Paper to identify important information
3. Using your list from item #1, find the info about the family and baby. What makes this family unique and special?
4. Sort the information into categories – start with 2 categories: “baby” and “family”. Can you identify more categories, such as “family’s culture” or “baby’s development”?
5. Once you have your categories, begin to prepare your presentation.
6. How will you share the information?
7. Rehearse the presentation
