

True or False

1. Human language is not unique. Other animals also have language.
2. Learning more than one language is harmful to a child's development.
3. There are around 7000 languages on earth today.
4. The number of languages is stable.
5. Most languages have a writing system.
6. Children acquire most of the basics of their language before the age of four.
7. Primitive languages cannot express complex ideas.
8. Some languages are more logical than other languages.
9. Every language has dialects.
10. Language acquisition is innate.