

Lizeth Estrada

ECE-210

Professor: Kristin. Scarola

Date: 10/20/20

Environment foster children's creative expression and the arts benefits us as teachers and students because creativity environment can include a high-quality interest in our classrooms or other spaces throughout our program. These areas should be well developed appropriate and have the materials for dramatic play, blocks, and many other materials that we need for our classroom. They should have different types of textures for our classrooms such as shapes, patterns, weight, colors. However it important to have space so that teachers won't fall, "play-based learning fosters creativity and allows children to connect the process of learning with the process of expressing their knowledge (Gandini, 1992)". Children would be to learn new things with these areas they will able to capture and experience new things as well as their academic learning. The materials that are using it provide opportunities for divergent learning in teacher's classrooms because we have to have strategies for our students to learn and it important to reverse and give feedback to the children and parents as well. "Divergent thinking treats all ideas of context applicability and disregards rubrics, criteria, or any process for assessment. There are also situations when divergent behavior might actually cause physical harm such as in class or on the playground and we expect our students to display judgment, convergent thinking strategies so that they can make the correct decisions" this states that we basically have to have everything well organized for our classrooms and for our students to learn in their academic school year. The centers that I have chosen support young children's development across various such as domains, physical, Language/Literacy, social/emotional, Cognitive these will help my students each of my centers will help my students learn and will be able to ask me questions about what they learn and students will be able to go to every center to enjoy and have fun but they will also learn and be able to read books and have a comfortable spot for them to sit and have their moment but there have enough materials for them to use. It's also very important for us teachers have communication with our students in order for us to know how they feeling. My classroom environment designed in a way that reflects developmentally and culturally appropriate practice because it will have different kinds of themes and a lot of creative artists around the classroom that the student had created with the materials that they used either with colors or anything that they have in mind, also they will have shelves where they will put their belongings and be ready to learn and it will have different kinds of things that will be set up around the classroom, also it will have different kinds of theme that will go for each holiday my students and classroom will be fun and ready to learn. I am looking forward to designing my own classroom and have fun with it.

Work cited website

<https://www.virtuallabschool.org/preschool/creative/lesson-3>

<https://www.edutopia.org/blog/fueling-creativity-through-divergent-thinking-classroom-stacey-goodman>