Playing with snow is one of my favorite hobbies. One day I met Mercer, the moose who is really good with his snowmobile.

Mercer said, " Hop on and let's have a ride".

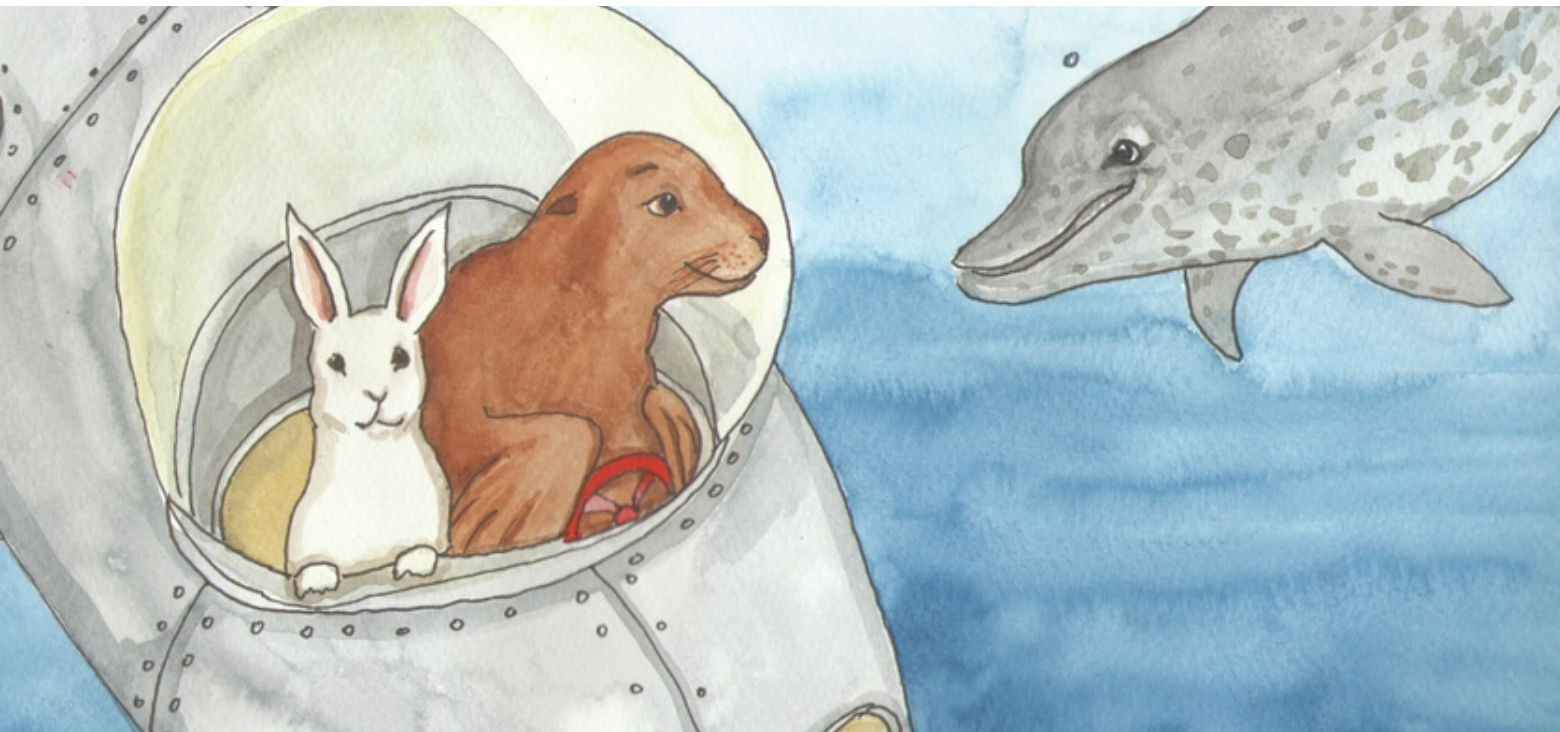

Paul, the polar bear took me in a ride in his jet ski to meet with Nala, the narwhal. She has a single long straight tooth.

Ollie, the sea otter taught me how to use her paddle board.

Sela, the seal showed me the bottom of the ocean in her submarine, and we met Don, the dolphin. He was excited to meet new friends.

My new friend Hugo, the hippo invited me to his birthday party where I shared my adventures. As the party ended, I told Hugo: " I can't wait to meet more friends and the things they like to do".

I met Cami, the cat who was a little sad that her mouse friends didn't have enough space on their small boat. I took Cami on a boat ride which is her favorite. Her mouse friends joined us.

Gaby, the goat showed me the beauty of her city as well as the amazing ability she has driving the train.

Tyler, the tiger showed me how strong he was as he took me to meet his family.

Flo the Fox said: "We appreciate the beauty of our homeland when we look at it from, the sky".

I never imagined that a Fox would be such a good pilot.

As Zu the Zebra was taking me in a ride back home, I couldn't stop thinking about how amazing my new friends are. We all look different, and we all have unique personalities and abilities.

But together we had the most amazing adventures of all!
